Mountain Lake Biological Station is the field station of the Department of Biology at the University of Virginia. MLBS is located at an elevation of 3800 ft atop Salt Pond Mountain on the Eastern Continental Divide in the Appalachian Mountains. The station provides access to a variety of natural environments for research and education, with two modern laboratories and full living accommodations. We invite everyone to consider MLBS for their research, education, and conference activities.